

PRIVACY POLICY STATEMENT OF THE TECHCOMBINE GROUP

Introduction

This statement discloses the privacy practices for the following websites:

www.TechCombine.com

www.RedTechPro.com

www.AmpLV.com

www.MagicLampComputing.com

www.DeepBuzz.com

These websites are, herein, known as the TechCombine Group, which are jointly owned and operated by Magic Lamp Computing, LLC and Adagio Media Productions. This privacy statement applies only to information collected on the websites of the TechCombine Group and is not applicable to any other website that may be visited outside of the TechCombine Group.

We value the privacy of all visitors who use our websites. Any personal information collected, used or disclosed by the TechCombine Group is in accordance with the United States Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). We do not sell or rent personal information. Personal information is disclosed only in accordance with FOIA or as required by law.

Information Involuntarily Collected From Visitors

As with most other websites, we collect and use the following data contained in server log files for every visit to any of our websites:

- Visitor's IP address,
- Visitor's ISP (Internet Service Provider),
- The operating system of the computer from which the visitor accessed our website,
- The web browser type and version used to access our website,
- The date and time the visitor arrived at our website,
- The pages visited on our website,
- The date and time the visitor exited our website.

We are the sole owners of this involuntarily collected information from visitors to our websites and we do not share this information in raw form with third parties. This information is used to prepare internal visitor/traffic reports for our websites, and from time to time, may be shared in summary form with third parties. However, personally identifiable information collected involuntarily is not shared.

Information Collected Voluntarily From Visitors

We collect personally identifiable information that is voluntarily submitted by our users. Visitors are required to give this information to become registered users. Personally identifiable information collected on our website is only shared with business partners within the TechCombine Group.

We provide services for hire and provide our users the facility to pay for those services online through the websites of the TechCombine Group. In support of this payment facility, a user's credit/debit card and/or banking information is collected by a third party that provides merchant services for the purpose of fulfilling payments to the TechCombine Group. We do not retain or store any users' credit /debit card or banking information.

A user can review and/or edit the personally identifiable information collected on our website by logging into any of the TechCombine Group websites. Personally identifiable information, including User ID's and passwords are encrypted whenever being transmitting electronically. We also protect user information offline. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job (for example, billing or customer service) are granted access to user information. The computers/servers in which we store user information are kept in a secure environment.

Although the TechCombine Group pledges to take all reasonable actions to protect the privacy of user information, we can not be held responsible or liable for the consequences of malicious acts committed by 'hackers' or other unauthorized entities against the web browser, operating/network system, or web/email host that might result in revealing user information to persons outside of the TechCombine Group.

Email Lists

The TechCombine Group maintains email mailing lists. All of our email mailings are 'opt-in' by the user. At any time a user may 'opt-in' or 'opt-out' of receiving email mailings by logging into a TechCombine Group website and setting the appropriate email preferences. We shall not use email addresses to send spam (defined as unsolicited commercial email). All emails from our website shall be related to (1) delivery of services from our websites for which a user has registered, (2) responses to a user's email inquiry, or (3) other messages that a user has agreed to receive. User email addresses, as well as all other user information, collected by the TechCombine Group are kept private and are not shared (except as required by law) with any entity outside the TechCombine Group.

Links

Our websites may contain links to other third party sites. These links are made available as a convenience and visitors agree to use these links at their own risk. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our visitors to be aware when they leave one of our sites and to read the privacy statements of any other site that collects personally identifiable information.

Cookies

TechCombine websites may use cookies. Cookies are small amounts of data that a web page can request the browser to store in a special controlled place on a visitor's computer. Remembering a visitor's personal preferences is an example of how cookies might be used. The use of cookies is a commonly use technique throughout the internet. However, TechCombine websites do not store unencrypted personally identifiable information in cookies. Therefore, even in the event that a browser's security is breached, information stored in our cookies will remain secure.

Third Party Advertisements

Third party advertisements may be used on TechCombine websites. Some of these advertisers may use technologies such as cookies and web beacons, which will send to these advertisers (such as the Google AdSense program) information about the ad's viewer, including the IP address, ISP, the browser used to visit the site, and whether Flash is installed. This information is generally used to tailor advertising more specifically to the attributes of the ad's viewer. TechCombine only allows advertisements from reputable sources which follow strict guidelines regarding security and internet etiquette.
